Vintage Season Is Rich in Social Events

Closing Days of October Brimful of Affairs In Sonoma Valley

The ladies of Bear Flag Stamm Pocahontas daughters did honor to the vintage season at their splendid picnic and festival of last Sunday and the affair did them honor in every way. The homage they paid to the vine and the rich harvest which has just been yielded marked the revival of a custom and ceremonial old and beautiful. The setting for Sonoma's festive day was ideal, right at the edge of beautiful Rhine Farm, where the spirit of other vintage festivals still lingers and where nature had put on her richest colors and proffered her fairest weather to gladden the hearts of the merry makers.

Schuhmans resort was the scene of the gathering and its pretty surroundings lent themselves most effectively to the festive arrangements of the ladies who erected a fine dance platform and kermiss-like booths gayly adorned with bunting, evergreen garlands and great clusters of grapes.

Early in the day the picnic parties began to arrive and the morning train brought a large crowd to join in the picturesque celebration. The guests were met by the genial committee of ladies who left nothing undone in the way of cordiality to make everyone feel at home. They were most lavish in their entertainment and so throughly demonstrated Bear Flag Stamm's hospitable spirit of graciousness that it will put the seal of success upon all their future undertakings. There were games and contests which netted the order (which is a beneficiary one) substantial sums and the gate receipts were most flattering though most of the hospitality was gratis.

Dancing was one of the principal features of the day's enjoyment and the modern dances were interspersed with the real old fashioned rhymths which were indulged in by young and old to the music of Ben Meyer's accordion. The Pauli orchestra furnished the modern music and all had a genuinely good time.

In the evening there were songs by the Sonoma Stamm quartette in German and also solos in English by Al Jansen. The following were among the prominent ladies having this highly successful affair in charge. Frauen Moebes, Schaefer, Colli, Randolph, Rehwag, A. Kerner and Steiner.

May the vintage festival flourish each year at the autumnal season in Sonoma Valley and may the Order which has revived it live long and prosper.

Comments of the "morning after" are always interesting and the reflective opinion is better than snap judgement any time, so the commentary on the Ladies Aid bazaar program is worth while recording.

The program was musical even to the farce, which under the title of "A Musical Bore" proved anything but that. On the contrary it was a highly entertaining sketch introducing some very clever musical numbers both burlesque, syncopated and classic.

The musical number, LaSorella, put the audience into just the right mood for enjoyment and showed the orchestra's ensemble playing to splendid advantage. This was followed by a vocal trio in which the sweet voices of Misses Henrietta Weber, Emilie Poppe and Nancy Bates blended most harmonously. Mrs. Rowell accompanied with an understanding thoroughly musical

The Sailor Song with its rollicking lilt and splendid harmonies captivated the audience completely and the quartette, Messrs. Jansen Vorst, Knolle and Rowell were heartily encored Alfred Jansen's solo work was exceptionally good. His splendid bass voice was particularly appealing in "Mother Machree." Jerome Jensen was his accompanist and both merited the generous applause accorded them Miss Grace Thompson, the talented violinist, always a favorite with local audiences, drew forth the most beautiful tones from her instrument and made a happy choice in her selection, "The Salut d'Amour" of Elgar.

After a number by the mixed quartette and a concluding orchestrial selection, the Santa Rosa talent appeared in "The Musical Bore." Those in the cast were Harry Luce, talented pianist, a violinist and a song and dance artist of ability.

At the conclusion of the program the many booths were well patronized. The fancy work table of the Golden Hour Club, the young girls organization whose needle work is supervised by Mrs. Bordsen and Mrs. Rowell was much complimented. While not as large an affair as some of the Congregational undertakings, the autumn bazaar's success was most gratifying

A pretty compliment to an Eastern visitor was that arranged for Mrs. Blackburn of Maine by Mrs. Erazmus at her pretty home Monday afternoon. Mrs. Blackburn, a sister of Mrs Akers, has been on the Pacific Cost for some time enjoying the Fair and a visit with her Sonoma Valley relatives. The affair in her honor Monday was enjoyed by the following congenial group of ladies: Mesdames Akers, Blackburn, Eshback, Erazmus. Clements, Cooper, Misses Jeanette Cooper and Alma Cooper.

Mrs. Erazmus home was tastefully adorned with choice flowers and her guest of honor realized true California hospitality in the afternoon tea with its many tempting viands and the bright and friendly repartee which characterized this delightful gathering.

FORMER MINISTER WELCOMED BY MAYOR

The following account of Rev. E. E. Brown's welcome to San Rafael will be read with interest by his many friends here where he was formerly pastor of the local M. E. church.

"Rev. E. E. Brown who has been appointed pastor of the San Rafael Methodist church following the retirement of Rev. William Angwin, was given a reception in the church parlors last Friday evening. There was a large gathering present and a warm welcome was extended to the new pastor from his brother clergy, prominent members of the church and Mayor Herzog.

U. S. Turley filled creditably the office of chairman and spoke earnestly of his pleasant and long association with the retiring pastor, concluding with a prediction of as successful a regime under the guidance of Rev. Brown.

At the beginning of the evening songs were sung by the Kerby family, Miss Lou Dougherty and J. C. Iler.

Fight Flames at Schellville.

Four hundred acres of valuable pasture land belonging to Otto Brandt the well known horse man was destroyed by fire yesterday which started about noon. A large army of volunteers fought the flames for several hours before they were conquered. It is thought that automobilists may have ignited the dry grass near the road.

Railroad Buys Land

The Northwestern Pacific consummated the deal this week for the widening of the piece of road between Ba to's spur and the Capt. Bosch place.

The following owners transfered land to the Company. J. Batto and sons, Mr. Cahill, M. Brown, H. E. Drake, A. J. Silva and W. H. Curry. The First National Bank handled the transaction.

Mrs. Henry Wicker entertained with her usual charm this week in honor of her sister, Mrs. Lamb, who is here from Southern California.

Geo. Breitenbach has recovered from his illness and will be out in a day or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hill and the Froments' motored to Tocaloma Tuesday.

The W. R Eversons' of Kenwood were granted a divorce this week by Judge Denny.

A fine baby boy was presented to the Bernhard Schrempps' Tuesday. Dr. Gobar was in attendance.

Mrs. Robt. Hall has been away for a few days rest. Mr. Hall's condition is slightly improved.

Mrs. Frank De Martini has been a city visitor for the past week.

Misses Annie and Katie Laurenzi went down to San Francisco Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Moore were presented with a fine baby boy last Sunday.

B. Bordson our well known merchant and J. Prince of El Verano went to Fresno Tuesday for a week's visit.

J. F. Kehoe of San Francisco has been visiting his family.

LIGHT VOTE CAST SHOWS DISGUST

People Turn Down Administration's Freak Amendments

The vote at the special election on Tuesday was very light throughout Sonoma Valley and the amendments were hopelessly beaten. Throughout the county only 20 per cent of the total registration cast a ballot and as the holding of the election cost something like $5000, the experiment cost one dollar for each vote cast.

The state returns show a like condition and estimates on the cost of each vote for all the counties run as high as $3 each. Every amendment was beaten.

Following are the returns in the precincts of Sonoma Valley:

GEORGE COOPER WRITES LONDON

The following letter has been received by Jack London from George Cooper the boy prize agriculturist:

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 22, 1915

Dear Mr. London:

We are now passing through the great corn fields of Nebraska. I write you this little note thanking you for your interest and assistance in helping to make this great trip possible. We are seeing many wonderful sights and are getting many valuable ideas, which will help us to be better farmers when we get back home. This trip will aid us greatly and we hope to pass the ideas we are getting on to our neighbors so that they will also benefit by what we are learning.

Thanking you again, I remain yours sincerely

George Cooper.

Mrs. Quartaroli and daughter Mrs. Fochetti, spent Wednesday in the metropolis.

Aletha Skinner celebrated her seventh birthday with a jolly child's party last Saturday.

Death Comes to Robert Howe

A Notable Man Passes to Higher Estate and Is Mourned by Sonoma Valley

Robert Howe, grandson of Brigadier General Howe, Military Aid to George Washington and one of the splendid pioneers of California, has passed to his reward. His death occured at his late residence in San Francisco Monday and in his passing a devoted family has been deprived of a splendid father and men, women and children all over California have lost a devoted friend.

Although he had attained the ripe old age of 84 years, he never lost interest in the well being of his fellows and his life to the last was a book of honor in which many beautiful traits are recorded and will forever be cherished as the heritage of his children and grand children.

Mr. Howe was formerly identified with the mining interests of Tuloumne County in this State, which county honored him with repeated elections to the Legislature where he distinguished himself as speaker of the Assembly in 1868. Later he removed to San Francisco where as one of the partners in the commission firm of Howe & Hall, he was rated as one of the substantial business men of the metropolis and where he was again honored with political preferment by the Democratic party at several sessions of the Legislature.

About 1876 he moved with his family to Sonoma and settled upon the famous Eden Dale ranch which he brought up to the highest cultivation and on which he builded the commodious home so famed for many years of lavish hospitality.

Senator Howe became here as elsewhere a great political factor. He was elected to the Assembly by a large vote and made speaker of the House in 1888. He was one of the most public spirited and progressive citizens Sonoma Valley ever had. Robert Howe was active in educational matters, both primary and secondary and was the father of San Luis district. Scarcely a child who learned their A, B, Cs at Schellville school, but also learned to love this kindly friend and well wisher. In the formation of the Sonoma Valley Union high school he was foremost and for many terms was the president of the Board of Trustees. After years of unselfish devotion to the upbuilding of the Sonoma Valley he retired from active life sold his interests here and removed to San Francisco.

His leave taking occasioned a great void in the community and he left behind a legion of friends who will ever cherish the memory of this high minded citizen and who will sorrow with the family at his call to the Higher Estate. A real Christian and an American gentleman expresses in a humble way the attributes of Robert Howe.

The funeral took place in San Francisco Thursday, interment being in Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

ALLEGE VIOLATION OF TRAFFIC LAW

Traffic cop Ragan swore to a complaint this week charging David Sinclair of Glen Ellen with violating the traffic law governing the passing of vehicles on the public highway.

The alleged infraction occured Sunday when Sinclar in an automobile attempted to pass two rigs at close range near Verano. The rigs were being driven by L. M. Bish and J. Murray.

The matter was threshed out in court Wednesday, assistant District Attorney Ford appearing for the People and Frank Sprague for Sinclair.

Mr. Ford examined the witnesses and rested his case on the wording of the statute which defines the infraction and attaches a fine. Attorney Sprague, for the defense, maintained that there was no damage and that his client could have averted any accident as he had perfect control of the machine and was proceeding in a slow and cautious manner. Judge Small took the matter under advisement after assistant District Attorney Ford declared he would submit a Supreme Court ruling in a parallel case.

The time card of the N. W. P. Railroad changes Oct. 31st. when the winter schedule will prevail.

Merited Rebuke by Voters

That California has had enough of senseless reform measures was demonstrated at the polls Tuesday when Governor Johnson's pet progressive measures went down to ignominious defeat at the hands of a thoroughly aroused and intellegent percentage of our voters. Let the people rule has become a slogan of hypocrisy which means let the dear people pay for the dear elections to keep the dear reformers in office. The people are tired of Johnson politics. They see they are not getting what they thought they would get—even his most ardent devotees—and with the exception of the professional political plants which he has set out all over the state his regime has ceased to make an appeal and as demonstrated Tuesday is a dead letter. The most expensive and the most high handed in our political history its downfall was certain. The non-partisan measure sandwiched in with vote catching devices like the rural credits and the church exemption amendments failed to fool the dear people and California's spirit and intelligence at last bids fair to redeem us from freak legislation and charlatan reformers.

The Man Himself

Any one who has followed the career of Dr. Aked, the well known divine, must have observed that he likes the glare of publicity. There is a Roosveltian similarity in his spectacular proneness. Holding the center of the stage and getting himself talked about is always a prominent consideration with him As a result he has not always made a good choice of subjects—at least they have not been the subjects to be relished either by friendly critics or good christians, but with all Dr. Aked's ability has not been completely engulfed and when at last he preaches sincerly, straight from his heart on "International Conscience" and the intolerable aspects of the war, we praise the genuine ring of the words on this most laudable topic. Such sentiment so well spoken makes us wish that Dr, Aked would be moved more often to rise to the full height of his own personality and concience and drop the tricks and devices of demagogues.

There is an echo of socialism in the following paragraph from his address but it is irrefutable argument in the light of the present blood shed in Europe.

"Before the masses of Europe can shake from their limbs the chains of military despotism, they must first emancipate themselves from the impalpable and monstrous tyrranny of a superstition which masquerades as patriotism. We ourselves in this land of the free are not less superstitious slaves. To this day we drink the shameful toast: Our country; in her intercourse with foreign nations may she be always in the right; but our country, right or wrong. Such a sentiment is base in its conception and disastrous in its results. It is immoral through and through.

It means that a stretch of country is of greater consequence to you than the eternal principals of right; that equity, justice and honor are merely municipal and local ordinances; that truth is a thing of the tent or tribe, morality a matter of maps and mileage and love a question of latitude and longitude. It makes of God a term of geography.

Let Us Crow

The visitation of three wizards all at once to Sonoma County is worth while recording and it is indeed an honor of which this county may well be proud. When Edison, Ford and Burbank get together it makes a distinguished and valuable group and Sonoma County will gain considerable fame through the little jaunt to Burbank's home.

Any notable specimen excites curiosity as to its source, and no doubt Burbank's environment and home source was a matter of speculation with Ford and Edison. Now that they have seen in just what soil Burbank's genius took root, they will agree that he made a happy choice and that for the incubation of his pet creations, Mother Nature could not have furnished him a better.

What Sonoma County needs is to pattern after the loudest crowers in our poultry yards and to megaphone up the honor like our Southern California neighbors do when anything to crow about happens down there. It is true our retiring idea of publicity is indicative of the thoroughbred but Southern California's way has been productive of fame long since won, while we are just coming into our own. Burbank has done much to keep Sonoma County's name where it deserves to be and we will have two more constructive geniuses to spread the tidings of our enviable place in the counties of California now that Thomas A. Edison and Henry Ford have been our honored guests.

The newspapers who declare President Wilsons marriage is "imminent" would give the impression that some disaster is about to overtake our chief executive.

Whistling Through a Graveyard

President Wilson's Thanksgiving proclamation reads well and from our national point of view may be well taken but withal this nation is selfish if we can feel the thrill of security and comfort, and give thanks for it when so much of humanity is being slaughtered, crippled, widowed, orphaned and demoralized. To pen such a proclamation is like "whistling through a graveyard" and while most of the nation expects it and custom decrees it there is a percentage of the country and a growing one which is cognizant of the incongruity of it.

Our presidents graveyard whistle is partly accountable for on account of his approaching nuptials and although his marraige has been a subject of much gossip and discussion there seems to be a balance about the man which should inspire the admiration of every American. In the face of the crises which beset his term of office he has shown himself to be a normal man who refuses to become imbued with pessimism and does not intend to concentrate all his mentality on the seamy side of life and its problems. He will be of greater service to the nation by living his own life and leavening it with a little sentiment and sunshine. For this the United States may be truly thankful.

The assessment of 5 cents per ton on all grapes crushed in Sonoma county to defend California's great industry from destruction by cranks and ill advised congressmen with their war tax is a timely move. The presence of a good man to defend the position of our viticulturists will be well worth the $500 expended and the balance of the money raised by the assessment to be used for defending the industry against the 1916 attack promised by the prohibitionists will "help some" to enlighten a percentage of our voters concerning the poor logic of a noxious crop of calamity howlers.

WHO CAN FILL THE BILL?

As the choice of Secretary for the local Chamber of Commerce was again delayed, we think it may precipitate applications to outline the desired qualifications for one seeking this important position.

One so strong in faith in the future of Sonoma Valley that he will inspire all members to keep their dues paid up One so sure that the work he is doing is so fine, ennobling and far reaching that nothing in the way of pessismism can dampen his ardor. One so finely constructed that the shafts of the grouch cannot find the smallest point of penetration One who will not need a megaphone to let people known why he is here. One who will so conscientiously follow up his duties that the poorest citizen ere long through our prosperity can substitute non skid tires for shoe leather. One who will not keep his muffler open all the time, but who nevertheless will boost consistently for the substantial up keep of the organization he represents. One with an understanding of the right kind of publicity that will spread the gospel of printers ink and regard as his best ammunition, literature descriptive and illustrative of Sonoma Valley.

Mrs. J. E. Poppe, who has been the guest of her daughter Mrs. Kruger in San Francisco, has returned home.

E. G. Lynch of Mendocino County recently killed a large wild cat. It was a beautiful specimen.

Miss Burchard, one of our Grammar School teachers, spent Saturday and Sunday in the metropolis.

Miss Bernice Hocker, who is teaching school at Bloomfield, was a visitor at the Exposition Sunday.

Vernon Goodwin, formerly of this place, has been elected president of the Southern California Hotel Mens Association.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lowell took in the Fair Sunday. Their pretty little baby was left in the care of her grand mother, Mrs. Weber.

Miss Josephine Steiner, after being entertained by the Uster and Schoensfeins most hospitably in San Francisco, was welcomed home Saturday evening.

Mrs. Benjamin and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton, of El Verano, will be the gracious hostesses for St. Barbara's Guild meeting Tuesday, November second.

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church will be entertained by Mrs. J. J. Dunbar on Thursday, November fourth, at her home on Broadway. A good attendance is desired.

Mrs. Gertrude Mc Gee Moore, of San Rafael, has returned home after a delightful visit with the R. B. Thomas family. Mrs. Moore was accompanied by her little daughter, Helen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Parrish of Kansas City were the guests of the Stofens this week. They returned to the East Tuesday evening and were charmed with California's great Exposition and the Sonoma Valley.

At a meeting of the Library trustees last week it was decided to expend about $20 for current fiction and the new books have just arrived.

Mrs. George Estes, one of our former pioneer ladies, but now of Port Costa, has been enjoying the Fair this week in San Francisco. Mrs. Estes looks as young as she ever did and is enjoying the best of health.

Leland Ramsdell, well-known here, is having a handsome home on the Italian Villa architectural style completed for him by Burlingame architects and with his pretty young wife will shortly occupy it.

Mrs. Moldanado and her two daughters will leave shortly for Arizona where they will spend the winter. Miss Moldanado will give a farewell afternoon at the St. Francis before her leave taking from San Francisco.

Rev. W. T. Holt, rector of Trinity Church, returned from San Francisco Wednesday morning where he visited with his sister and brother-in-law, who are here from Florida enjoying the wonders of the Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weaver left for San Francisco Tuesday to take in the Fair. Mr. Weaver, the owner of some fine stock himself, is particularly interested in the live stock and machinery exhibit. His preference for the live stock is evident in his choice in fine horses instead of an automobile.

Mrs. J. A. Poppe, our veteran lady merchant, who is still hale and hearty at 86, gave evidence of the indomitable spirit of the pioneer when she asserted herself recently in regard to a trip to the Exposition, which had been thoughfully planned for her by her children. The plan included the ease and comfort of taxi cabs and wheel chair, but Mrs. Poppe rebelled against this mode of travel and refused to go.

To show the interest parents have taken in giving their children the benefit of seeing the Exposition, it is worth while mentioning that most of all the 165 children in our Grammar School have visited the "City of a Thousand Domes", with the exception of the smaller tots and even among these the percentage is high. It not only shows interest and appreciation, but it shows prosperity in the Sonoma district.

Examinations for hospital attendants for the Sonoma State Home at Eldridge will be held at the institution on November 12th. Application blanks which the State Civil Service Commission at Sacramento supplies must be filed with the Commission at least 6 days before the holding of the examination.

Rural Delivery By Motor Service

Horses too Slow for Post Office Patrons and Growth of Valley Causes Uncle Sam to Order Up To-Date Equipment

Rural mail carrier's horses will soon be as hard to find as the proverbial reindeer of St. Nick, for by December first, Sonoma Valley will have a motor rural delivery service.

The announcement has been made by Postmaster Wagnon who has been out this week looking over the new territory to be embraced in the latest orders of the Department which instructs the local office to serve all the Valley as far up as Kenwood, while the Bennett Valley route will be henceforth taken care of by the Santa Rosa post office. The new route embraces 60.56 miles of territory which will be served several hours quicker by the proposed innovation.

The man behind the wheel of Uncle Sam's mail delivery will take the place of three carriers with horses, displacing two in Sonoma and one at Glen Ellen. Mail from the southern end of the valley will now reach the local office in time to go out on the afternoon trains and patrons generally on routes one and two will be greatly benefited.

The new job is Civil Service and the salary is $1800 per annum. The carrier must supply his own machine, the capacity of which is specified as 80 cubic feet, guaranteed to carry 1000 lbs weight and be equipped to protect the mail against the weather. The holidays will be a severe test on the new system of distribution, but it could not come at a better season for those waiting anxiously for their Christmas mail will greet the motor mail man with enthusiasm and his welcome by patrons all along the line is assured.

A. FERINI ADDS TO FINE RANCH

A. Ferini has added the 80 acre ranch formerly owned by John Lawler to his fine ranch of 320 acres and will erect a house and other improvements on the property, which will be tenanted by his son and daughter.

SUPERIOR COURT NOTES

The following legal matters came up in Santa Rosa Monday:

Robert A. Poppe was named executrix in the estate of Arvilla McHarvey.

The suit of the city of Sonoma vs. S. V. W. & L. Co was set for December 28.

C. C. Wayne entered a plea of not guilty of embezzlement.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT SUGGESTIONS

(Under this caption we will be glad to publish the suggestions of our readers on public improvements. What do you think is needed and what are your ideas?)

Improve Mission

I would like to see the grounds around the old Mission improved and beautified. Since the hallowed land mark has been purchased by the State and is now restored so beautifully it seems only responsive on the part of the public here to make its setting and environment attractive. I would suggest a rustic fence of the native rock, in fact I would donate some for the purpose, and within a nice green lawn with here and there a palm and the quaint old cactus to lend a touch of the days of the padres. What an attraction it would then be and how much better a testimonial of the regard of the community.

Lulu Vallejo Emparan.

Town Clock

I would suggest a town clock on our city hall. It would be a great convenience and be symbolic of Sonoma being up with the times. I think it would quicken our civic conscience and make us realize that time was fleeting and that there was no hour like the present one to improve. It would be company for us all and a community time piece for those of us who cannot even afford dollar watches. Sonoma's working men do not stop work when the whistle blows nor would they watch the clock so there need not fear on that score. "The man who winds the clock" might come to be an important position in Sonoma. He certainly would make a go of it. Take Time by the forelock and get a clock

A Socialist Reader.

A WEDDING MORE THAN GOLDEN

Fifty three years of happy married life is the portion of Judge and Mrs. C. H. Dillon of Petaluma who celebrated their anniversary on Sunday. The wedding was solemnized at Embarcadero in the early days at the home of Judge and Mrs. Stephen Akers, parents of the bride who was the youngest of the Akers family. Postmaster Mont Akers is a brother and Mrs. Wm. C. Goodman of this place a sister of Mrs. Dillon. Judge Dillon was formerly in the butcher business here and later bought out a drug store.

They have made their home continuously in Sonoma County for these fifty years and are among our most respected pioneers.

BANQUET VISITING GRAND LODGE

The visiting members from the Grand Lodge of Red Men, San Francisco, were tended a banquet Saturday evening by the Sonoma branch of this well known and popular fraternal order. After a business session the members and their guests gathered around the festive board where a fine supper was partaken of and music and speech making kept the company together until a late hour. The Sonoma Stamm quartette composed of Messrs. Schaeffer, Schuhman, Wolf and Baltersbeger rendered some fine selections.

The guests of honor were High Priest Bentele, Secretary Fuetcher, Treasurer Schwartz, Mrs. Fuetcher, Secretary of Eureka Stamm; Mrs. Jensen, Ex-President Metamora Stamm; Mrs. Drewes, Past President Eureka Stamm; Mrs. Meyer, Ex-President Eureka Stamm.

Sonoma Stamm U. O. R. M., although but one year old has 55 members and expects to win the premium from the Grand Order on account of its flourishing condition. Bear Flag Stamm, the ladies auxiliary of which Mrs. Moebes is President, numbers 30 members. The order is doing fine work and promoting great sociability among our German residents.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATING TEAM

At a try out of the debaters at the High School Monday evening the following team was selected to represent Sonoma in the coming debate with Analy High School of Sebastopol to be held here on the night of November 20th: Marie Minkel, Stewart Potter, Rodney Prestwood and Stephen Duhring, alternate.

Sonoma High carried off the trophy last year in forensics and the team this season gives promise of another brilliant record for the local school. Subject, "Minimum Wage." Sonoma has the affirmitive side.

Julius Pancrazzi had his finger amputated last week on account of an accident he suffered while repairing his automobile.

CANNERY MEN HOLD MEETING

The preliminaries in connection with the incorporation of the Vineburg cannery project have been completed and it will be incorporated at once. The election of officers and directors will then be held and stock placed on the market. $3000 has actually been subscribed and the concrete cannery building will be started sometime next week on the site at Vineburg. The plant promises to be a scene of great activity next season when the cherry crop will be the first handled and will be followed by pears, peaches, tomatoes and beans.

Everybody from boy farmers to septuagenarians can then begin to supply the local plant and every clod should feel a stir at the new era in the valley's development.

Messrs. Watt, Cutter, Van Grundy, O. Rufus, A. H. Perry, W. Helberg, John Wadsworth and the Rubkes' are all act vely identified with the new project.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the many friends and helpers who came to my assistance in fighting the fire which burned over my ranch yesterday.
